

Abstract of section appearing in the Austin American-Statesman in the Life and Style Section, Thursday, November 3, 2005:

JEAN SCHEIDNES AND MELANIE SPENCER: STYLE MATTERS

Austin designers uncork their creativity

Thursday, November 3, 2005

ReadyMade Magazine has named area artists Jennifer Chenoweth and Todd Campbell of Austin's Fistera Studio the winners of its MacGyver Challenge. The duo created a 7-foot-by-9-foot cork rug, which beat out vast and varied creations sent in from across the country. The rug is constructed with 4,500 individual corks that are twined together by 16-gauge wire. Fistera Studio, 1200 E. Second St., 482-0747, www.fisterrastudio.com.

(continued...)

For a continuation of this article, search for it in the Austin
American-Statesman archives at <http://www.statesman.com/>